The Old Continentals.

Let us awake the memories of that glorious struggle, and reanimate our patriotism with the [illegible] lines of Guy Humphreys McMaster, where in the battle at Bunker Hill [illegible] in verse that sounds like the roll of drums and the rattle of musketry:

In their new regimentals
Stood the [illegible] Continentals,
With [illegible] were hanging,
And their [illegible] clanging
[illegible]
[illegible]
From the [illegible] night encampment,
Bore the [illegible] of the trumpant
[illegible]
And [illegible] drummer drummer,
Rolled the [illegible] of the drummer,
[illegible] the march!

Then with [illegible] to the front all,
And with [illegible] shall,
[illegible]
And the [illegible] loudly,
And in [illegible] really
Blew the fifes
As the [illegible]
Over the [illegible]

Swept the [illegible] breakers
Over the [illegible]
[illegible]
And louder, louder, louder,
Cracked the black gun-powder,
Crashing round us!

Now the [illegible] at their forges
Worked [illegible] St. George's
Cannoneer;
And the [illegible] "pieces"
Rang in fiercer [illegible] metre
[illegible]
And the swift
Storm drift.

With hot revolving anger,
Came the [illegible] Rangers
On our flanks!

Then higher, higher, higher,
Burned the old-fashioned fire
Through the candles!

Then the old-fashioned colonel
Galloped [illegible] the white infernal
Powder cloud;
And his head sword was swinging,
And his leaden throat was ringing
Trumpet-loud,
Then like clear
Bullets flew.

And the Essex jackets ridden
At the touch of the leaden
Rifle wrath,
And [illegible] thunder, rounder,
Reared the [illegible] six-pounder
Hurling death.

THE DANGER WHICH CALIFORNIA AND OREGON HAVE PASSED.—In a speech made by Senator McDougal, in Illinois, last Fall, he referred "to an interview between himself and General Shields, in San Francisco, in the Fall of 1860, which shows that Shields was enlisted in the Secession movement at that time, and visited California to further its interests, and tried to induce the speaker to join his fortunes with it."

This statement was made in Illinois by Senator McDougal, and was published at the time in Illinois papers. Other evidence has come to light that the party claiming the name democratic in California, believed that they had the power to "precipitate" that State into the arms of Jeff. Davis. Gwin and others knew for what purpose Floyd had sent 60,000 stand of arms to Bertida—and why A. S. Johnston had been sent to San Francisco Bay, to take charge of the troops there. This Johnston could easily have surrendered to the confederates, and the forts and all the arms would then have gone into their hands. Unquestionably this was THE PLAN, and it was known to be such when Gen. Lane avowed in the Senate that he was going to Oregon to place, for under the government of the Confederate States. But it was rendered abortive by the sudden appearance of Gen. Sumner at San Francisco, and the displacement of Colonel Johnston. Doubtless our readers recollect the denunciations in the Advertiser of the Government for sending out Gen. Sumner to take the place of Johnston? It was a merciful, at that time, to the loyal men of Secession in California and Oregon.

The Secession party of California and Oregon have now got [illegible] of arms, ready to be turned [illegible] when they will strike down the United Republics of the two States! Thank God, California and Oregon have safely passed a great crisis, but such shall not be known hereafter.

The Flood

It is dreadful to witness the awful destruction of property by the flood. Wrecks of buildings are constantly coming down. Last evening the Multnomah saw mill floated past Portland. We have great apprehension for the Standard Mills at that place. We expect to hear of the loss of most of the flouring and saw mills in the Valley, but we have not a liable news from beyond Oregon City.

The country on the Willamette above the Falls must have experienced disasters greater than that below. We suppose that a vast amount of produce was collected at the landing points, and which is likely to have been destroyed or carried off. The people of this Valley will be in a state of suffering from the loss of property and mills, and a long time will pass before the losses and destruction by this flood will be repaired. We anxiously wait to hear from above. We have been without mails from the South for three days, and as many more will pass before we can expect them. A large portion of the active capital of Oregon has perished in this flood.

MEETING OF THE HOME GUARDS IN WASHINGTON COUNTY.—The company of Home Guards, Capt Ross, met at the house of Mr A Fano on the 23d ult. They organized themselves into a meeting, of which Mr J Denny was Chairman and Mr A Henderson was Secretary. The meeting was then addressed in patriotic speeches by Messrs. Jas Mitchell, of Multnomah county, J Denny and J Trulenger. The meeting then, on motion of Judge Mitchell, adopted several patriotic resolutions, declaring their views of the present rebellion, that secession from the Union is treason, that the printing of matters in newspapers which give aid and comfort to the enemy, is treason, that Congress has a right to levy and collect a tax for the support of Government, and that to resist its payment is treason, that we are ready to sustain the officers of Government in enforcing the laws, and in all other ways demean ourselves as good and true citizens of the United States.

The resolutions and speeches have the ring of the true metal. Washington county, under all circumstances, will be true to the Union and when the services of her "home guard" are required, they will be given in aid of the efforts to put down rebellion.

OREGON SENATOR.—In noticing the appointment of Benjamin Stark as Senator for Oregon, the San Francisco Bulletin says:

The people of California battled put forth the most herculean exertions, and only after years of constant effort have succeeded in relieving themselves from the fratricidal curse so notoriously unpopular and odious as he was. We thank heaven that we are to be relieved from the incubus, and that the Government has provided safe quarters for him at Fort Lafayette which it is hoped will keep him out of congenial mischief.

The citizens of Oregon feeling years ground down under the weight of Joe Lane, but by a tremendous effort they served him as we had served his boon companion here. They must now wait a little while longer ere they can be freed of their Whitakers and Starks. It will not be pleasant for them to see the place of Baker who died in his country's cause at the hands of assuming traitors, filled by a tool and apologist of those same men whose criminal acts rendered the great sacrifice necessary, nor will it be agreeable for them to behold 'an avowed Secessionist' taking a seat beside a Nesmith, their chosen representative, only to check and thwart, with equal vote, his every patriotic endeavor to crush out treason.

The Advertiser's San Francisco correspondent says that the appointment of Senator in Oregon has been given "to a sound Union Democrat." Is not that decidedly rich?

The Arrest of Gwin Benham and Brent by Gen Sumner

These men were the leaders of the [illegible] secession party in California as Jas Curry, Stark & Co are the leaders of the same party in Oregon. There were reports for [illegible] days in San Francisco that the distinguished Secessionists were in correspondence with the rebel authorities in the United States. It appeared improbable that any attempts from them [illegible] would be made, [illegible] Europe by the steamer of Panama. They took passage in the same steamer with Gen Sumner, who had with him 500 troops and 30,000 stand of arms. It was singular fact that, [illegible] the Captain of Port [illegible] at Gwin and his company were on board [illegible] after the steamer had left the San Francisco wharf. When the steamer had changed her course as to bring up to Alcatraz for the fort to salute Gen Sumner, Dr Gwin appeared much agitated. He was delivered with the appearance that he was to be placed as a prisoner in the fort. But his countenance lighted up when it appeared that the change in the course of the vessel had no reference to himself.

Nothing further occurred to disturb his equanimity until the morning of the 19th November. At that time Gen Sumner ordered Gwin and his friends to appear in the Captain's office. They were then informed by Gen Sumner that they were prisoners, and would be taken to the United States and delivered over to the military authorities; but that they would not be placed under close arrest until the steamer arrived in the bay of Panama.

On their temporary release, Benham and Brent proceeded to their rooms, collected their papers and threw them from their windows into the ocean. This was seen by a boy who saw this movement. He said that Mr Brent threw out of the ports, trunks, plants, papers &c, which went under the ship's wheels. Besides these loose papers a large number tied up in a towel were sent overboard. The captain of the steamer, Pearson, proposed to Gen Sumner to return and obtain these papers, but this was declined and the steamer passed on. Gen Sumner then put seals up on the baggage of the prisoners except on one carpet bag which was seen floating astern. It is a great misfortune to public justice that the papers thus thrown into the ocean were not recovered. We should probably have found evidence against persons in California and Oregon which would have convicted them of complicity in this rebellion.

On the arrival of the steamer at Panama some of Dr Gwin's confederates there sought to induce the New Granadian officers to interfere for the release of the prisoners and to prevent them from being taken across the Isthmus as such. The U S Consul endeavored to prevent Gen Sumner from carrying out his designs. The Governor ordered the armed police to guard the landing. Gen Sumner in the mean time armed his soldiers furnishing them with ball cartridges and ordered his officers to place the prisoners on the train at all hazards. The prisoners were landed in the morning. The chief of police asked Gen Sumner to desist from his determination. The General replied: "Tell your Governor I peremptorily decline to accede to his demand." The prisoners were taken over the Isthmus on the train deposited on the steamer at Aspinwall taken from there to New York delivered up to government, and at the last dates had been sent to Fort Lafayette.

We are indebted for the above statement to the Panama correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin.

50,000 SEAMEN IN THE NAVAL EXPEDITION.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says:

It is estimated that in the several squadrons of the great Naval Expedition nearly all of which has sailed or is about to sail there are 50,000 hardy seamen employed in great part of which many for years have been accustomed to the terrible toil and privation of Arctic voyages, fishermen inured to the trials of extensive whaling, banks and navy men familiar with the arts and excitements of the deep. This vast army of weather beaten soldiers of the sea has only one motto—that is, Never say die. They differ in this respect from any of the new land lubbers who follow them in the easy walks of life, require time to acquire submission to the rigors of the camp. In fine a gun boat expedition under the lead of some dashing sailor, manned by these Yankees, thrown into the bayous of the Mississippi precipitated upon the plantations of South Carolina or Alabama, burning with the recollections of their country's wrongs and recalling the fearful atrocities committed upon their New England brothers at Baltimore, Bull Run, and Bull's Bluff.

CITY.

MORE ABOUT THE FLOOD.—The river at this point has been at a stand since about noon yesterday. No further damage has been sustained in this city, with the exception of a few piles used as fenders, being displaced at the wharf of Couch & Flanders. Mr. Naughton early yesterday morning, had the coating to secure his scow-house by means of large chains and ropes, although the building was again nearly safe. The steamer Cowlitz failed to arrive here from Monticello; and the Multnomah was unable to reach her on account of the immense quantity of drift wood in the Cowlitz river; and hence we have no mail from the Sound. About four o'clock yesterday evening, the large saw mill of Messrs. Eddy & Co., at Milwaukie, floated by, followed shortly by a dwelling house, said to be the property of Mr. Torrence, and which was situated directly opposite Milwaukie. There is a report that the pilot-house, which was seen going down a day or two ago, belonged to the wreck of the steamer Onward, which is said to have been carried over the Falls at Oregon City. The rumor needs corroboration.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—The court was all day occupied in hearing the testimony in relation to the cause of J. P. O. Lownsdale vs. the city of Portland; Messrs. Williams, Gibbs & Page appeared for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Carter & Mitchell for the city. The counsel will commence their arguments before the court this morning.

COUNTY COURT.—This court was opened yesterday morning, with the usual number of cases on the docket: but owing to the most of the bar being absent, in attendance at the U. S. District Court, little business was done. Adjourned until to-day at 10 o'clock.

The Circuit Court for the fall term, adjourned yesterday morning, sine die.

RISE OF FLOUR.—We are informed that the stock of flour on hand in this city, is very limited, and holders are unwilling to dispose of the article at slight advances; inasmuch as they anticipate higher prices, when the extent of the damage on the upper Willamette will become known.

SAILED.—The steamer Pacific sailed yesterday afternoon for Victoria. She was unable to discharge all of her cargo designed for this place, owing to the dangerous condition of the wharf, which caught a great amount of wood—together with a heavy current. She took as freight from this city 1000 sks flour, 600 bxs apples, 21 bbls cider, and 50 pkgs butter and eggs.

FLOUR MILLS.—Messrs. Marks & Simmons have leased this mill to Shoemaker's, on Sauvie's Island. It contains a large amount of flour, which they are taking ashore. A call from these gentlemen to the owners will be found at this office.

MINSTRELS.—Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the minstrels were greeted with a crowded house at the theatre, last night. It is said Mike Mitchell, the celebrated jig dancer, will appear this evening.

In consequence of the storm Mr. Lawe's singing class was postponed to this evening: all who wish to join the class are invited to attend this evening at 7 o'clock.

SOUTHERN FINANCIAL TROUBLE.—The Burlington Weekly says:—"The Cotton States, which produce but a single crop, are reduced to a very painful condition. The consequence is that they will, for the means of subsistence, be at the mercy of the usurers. If this were all, they, as well as we, would make a shift to weather the storm: but the safety of the public is at stake. The Secretary's police is playing into the hands of the enemy and aggravating the evils of the blockade, which, under a wiser dispensation, instead of evils would be blessings."

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

A CAMP REVERIE.—A soldier from the Webster regiment of the Massachusetts volunteers, thus writes to the Boston Courier:

"If people could only understand the luxury of tents, house rents would fall rapidly. When it rains, every drop makes music. I see the stars through the tent door, and with flashes of distant lightning, the whole tent glows, till I fancy myself, as I lie half asleep, in a grotto of pearl, and the tongues of flame shadow the walls. In the hot noon I lift up the edges of the tent, and the cool breeze comes in laden with the fragrance of the field. I see clusters of men about the trees: the green vines clinging to the shrubs, and drooping from the boughs; the lizard crickets flying across the field, and the men with water jars in long rows. Then the ridges, full of shadows, lift themselves against the clear, hot sky, and, in a reverie, which no sound of parade or intrudes upon, and the stiff outline of buildings destroy, tents and fields and hills transport themselves to the Orient, and I look to see some richly caparisoned Vizier, followed by slaves, or some veiled Sultana, astride by on one of those mules. This is a garden of Damascus—those hills are Lebanon—that straight way across the green field leads to Palmyra. Those monotonous songs are the camel-drivers just from Ispahan—they will soon come in sight. I see the Pharpa gleaming through the trees and scattering brooks over the valley. The prophet blessed yonder wheat field, and the Pasha taxed yonder grove, and my little blackamoor, who just handed me water as if I were the Sultan, nods assent. Poor fellow! he looks up somewhat sadly with his great eyes, as if he thought of home. No wonder! I have been thinking of how many days it will be before I shall reach those distant hills and climb their sides, and of the time—but no matter."

Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., late in the Hungarian Military Hospital of Physicians of the Gentlemen, Women and Children, and Pesth College of Medicine, Member of the Council of Hygiene, &c.

To the Afflicted:

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I feel that the last of your medicine and do not think I need more, as I feel very well, except that I have not got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I left your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, entirely, and never thought you could be made perfect, but thought you might be able to relieve the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, so that I would not get excited so easily at everything. Now that you know, what I expected, my judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery of symptoms, and the removal of those sores and blotches on my skin, and the ulcers from my throat and the whole page of those diseases, which you said were principal cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your fee, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anything else beneficial, you may put this letter in the paper, and believe me gratefully yours,

THOMAS [illegible]

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire to do I wish to lay before the public a case which from its wonderful manifestation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly was causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of which, owing to my inability to meet the evil consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, put for agreement which I met with on attempting it, was such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of physician. I was frequently, while in a state of [illegible] thrown down to the ground without the slightest and although insensible to the agonies I yet knew the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon all would render assistance or shelter me from danger, as ones who sought but to prolong the existence of my While in this state, and having, previous to my ill tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to seeking relief a physician, and by recommendation upon Dr. L. I was once more restored to health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I then present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I [illegible] due to myself and all afflicted to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a [illegible] in whom every confidence can be placed.
